From the Pastor's Heart

It is good to celebrate. It is good to express appreciation and thankfulness. We are made in God's image, so we are hard-wired to give praise. When we celebrate God's goodness in our lives, it increases the joy in our hearts and our hope for the future. God knew this so He instructed the Israelites to erect monuments that would remind them of His wonderful acts and would prompt outbursts of praise.

This time of the year we experience two monuments that lift our hearts in praise to God.

First is our Thanksgiving monument at which time we pause to remember and praise God for all He has provided for us. The other key monument is Christmas. This is a celebration of God's miracle when He personally took on the form of humankind and was born in Bethlehem.

Both of these seasonal monuments are a time for outbursts of praise and thanksgiving—a time to be amazed at God's kindness and love; a time to appreciate God for Who He is and all He does for us.

Looking ahead to this season of praise and thanksgiving, we have planned multiple events that can be effective monuments to help us express our gratitude and appreciation.

The first monument will be on Sunday, November 19, when we hold our annual Thanksgiving event—a time of gathering for fellowship and expressions of thanksgiving.

Then in December we will have several monuments to encourage our praise and thanksgiving to God and our Savior Jesus Christ. More information to come about them.

One specific praise I have is for Pam Fisher, a true servant of the Lord, who has served as our piano accompanist for the 11 a.m. service for several years. Believing that God is leading her, she has stepped down from that ministry role and has done so with a heart of gratitude for God allowing her to serve Him in this way for all of these years. I also praise God for providing Pam's replacement. Her name is Kate Bode, and she is a junior at Biola University majoring in piano. By the time you read this, Kate will have already begun her ministry among us.

There truly is so much to be thankful and grateful for. I hope this season, you and I will give much attention to praising, thanking, and loving our God and our Savior Jesus Christ.

Reflections

by Pastor Rog

Dear Church Family,

As we approach the upcoming holiday season, how thankful I am that a day has been set aside to praise God—Thanksgiving. Like me, you probably have many memories of meeting with your family and friends to celebrate the Lord's goodness in your lives.

We always met at my mom's folks' home in Bell, CA. We never lacked for food (good old Missouri cooking), fun, and laughs. Oh, what a joyous occasion it was.

As I've grown older, I've learned that as a child of God, every day has the opportunity to be a thanksgiving day, because the Lord is with us. His promises are true and they reach down to us, and His strength undergirds us when ours has grown weak and failed.

Certainly the psalmist understood this because in Psalm 92:1-2, he tells us,

"It is good to praise the Lord and make music to Your Name, O Most High, ...to proclaim Your love in the morning and Your faithfulness at night."

The 92nd Psalm was used as a hymn for the weekly observance of the Jewish Sabbath, but it also was privately sung by those who stored its encouraging message in their hearts. May it be the same with us.

May the Lord bless you and yours as we gather on this glorious day of remembrance and celebration—yes, thanksgiving.

And even though you may be going through difficult times personally, may you take the time to prayerfully remember our Lord's words in Hebrews 13:5,

"I will never leave you or forsake you."

Our Lord's love and faithfulness is from everlasting. It will never fail

"Jesus Is the Final, Anointed King"

by Laura K. Springer, Th.M., Ph.D.

Three kinds of leaders were anointed for ministry in the Old Testament: prophets (1 Kings 19:16); priests (Exodus 28:41); and Kings (1 Samuel 10:1). Last month we saw Jesus as the Priest. This month we see him as King.

God created humanity to bear his image and act as his viceroy over creation. Unfortunately, humanity's decision to sin in the Garden of Eden threw a wrench in the works. God made humanity for something wonderful. Jesus' Messianic kingship has begun the restoration of that wonderful something.

Jesus is the Messianic King (Psalm 110; 1 Corinthians 15:24-28). In placing Jesus on the Messianic throne, the Father has begun fulfilling Psalm 8. There the psalmist says of humanity, "You have given him dominion over the works of your hands; you have put all things under his feet" (Psalm 8:6, ESV). Jesus, the God-Man, is now sitting on that Throne, and, when he has brought absolutely every created thing in subjection to himself, he will turn over the kingdom to his Father (1 Corinthians 15:28; Psalm 110:1). Christ restores humanity's delegated rule and magnifies God's glory beyond measure.

Jesus is the eternal King (1 Timothy 1:12-19). He is King of the Universe from eternity to eternity. As King of the Universe, he exercises providential and judicial authority. In exercising his providential authority, he provides for all things in his care. In exercising his judicial authority, he metes out perfect justice. There is never a time when he is not sovereign. He always has the power and authority of divine rule.

As the New Humanity, those who trust Christ participate in Jesus' care of and authority over creation. We are co-workers in Christ's mission to restore all things to his lordship. When we work to create things, bring justice, restore health, provide resources, and a plethora of other professional activities, we are doing Jesus' work in the world. He made everything and is concerned about everything so that we can do every profession for God's glory and humanity's good. Whether serving in church ministry, making lattes at Starbucks, treating patients in a hospital, or helping people plan their vacations, good work is God's work.

"As King of the universe...he provides for all things in his care."

Editor's note: For those of you who do not know, Laura, is now Dr. Laura Springer! Her graduation ceremony is in December.

Dear Friends at Torrance Baptist Church,

Thank you all for helping my family this year with backpacks and school supplies. Our family is so blessed to have someone like your church to help make our start of this new school year [better].

My husband had back surgery in 2013 and has been temporarily disabled. He used a walker, then a cane and is now walking great but continues to get [completely] well.

I am the sole provider for my husband, 7 children (3 boys and 4 girls), and my Mom [who has] stage 4 cancer. It has been a rough couple of years for us. I am the caregiver.

So with great gratitude my most precious children were blessed by your church and love their backpacks and school supplies.

Thank you so much. May God continue to bless your church!

Operation Bake & Take

MINISTRY OPPORTUNITY TO OUR SHUT-INS

The holiday season, which is so joyful to many, is actually a time of sadness for those who are shut-in and alone. “Operation Bake and Take” is one way we can help to bring a smile to a shut-in. You may bake cookies (frozen cookie dough will be available at the church for your convenience beginning November 6) and take them to a shut-in. Can’t bake . . . no problem. The visit is the most important part of this gift. Please consider spreading holiday cheer by visiting one of our shut-ins during November and December. If this is something that the Lord would have you do, please stop by the Outreach Table in the patio or the church office to sign up, pick up cookie dough (if needed), and get helpful instructions.

“...I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of Mine, you did for Me” (Matthew 25:40).

Thank you, thank you, thank you to everyone who came, helped, sent or brought cards and gifts for my 90th birthday—and all I had to do was show up!

I’m so lucky to know so many kind, wonderful people.

I’m especially grateful to my daughter, Lisa, and my son, Donald, and Becky who worked so hard to make everything great.

Donna Rowe

Dear TFB Friends,

Here I am finally able to sit at my computer! So now I can say a BIG THANK YOU! to all who prayed for me, sent cards and words of encouragement, and asked about me over these past several months. It’s been a long, hard struggle, trying much on my patience to wait! But the Lord has been here helping me to trust—nothing more I could do!

I’m getting better and stronger each day, but still needing knee replacement later.

So thanks again, and I will see you all later.

God bless you all

P.S. Please pray for my precious Bob for continued strength in taking care of me!!

Blog Excerpts from Jon & Jerilyn Sousa with InFaith Ministries

As you know, I am a missionary to Hispanics in Oregon. In February of 2015, one of my parishioners, Juan, called saying that his [young] son, Emmanuel, in Mexico, was dying of kidney failure. They had returned to Mexico nine years earlier seeking treatment for their son's kidney problems. Now, the doctor was telling them that they were at the end of the road.

I immediately called the doctor in Mexico and asked if Emanuel was strong enough to travel. He responded with, "Yes," but quickly added that Emanuel could get much worse at any moment. I sent Juan [back to Mexico] to get his son. We met at the border crossing in Tijuana, and I quickly drove him to an emergency room in San Diego. Emanuel was transported by ambulance to Rady Children's Hospital where he spent 3 days in intensive care and another few days in a regular bed. We then flew him to Portland, Oregon, where he was admitted to Doernbecher Children's hospital and spent a week for further stabilization. Emmanuel and his father have been living with Luis and Jessie Zavala (our daughter and son-in-law), and since March [2015], Jerilyn and I have been transporting Emanuel to Portland three times every week for dialysis. Whenever we cannot take Emanuel to dialysis his father has to lose a day of work. When he misses a day, it really hurts the already stretched family finances. Juan is a farm worker that makes only $10 an hour. All of his money goes to support his family in Mexico and his son here in Salem.

Emanuel's mother and two siblings were still in Oaxaca, Mexico. Emanuel's mom, Vicki, and his younger brothers did not have legal papers to come to the U.S. [At that time] Vicki had stayed out of the US for more than 10 years (after her father brought her here illegally as a teenager). Fortunately, Juan applied for his wife [to get her green card] in 2001. Vicki, had her appointment with the US Consulate in Ciudad Juarez on June 3, 2016 and [unfortunately] the officer denied her immediate entrance to the US. She would have to apply for a pardon. This decision meant several things. It meant that the family would have to continue to suffer a difficult separation. Emanuel was devastated when he learned that his mom would not be coming for another [so he thought] few months. He had never been away from his mom or his siblings. He and his dad were living with people he had never met before (our daughter and her husband). [At that time], they had been separated for almost a year and a half.

The decision also meant that it would cost us another $2,350 in application and lawyer's fees. It has already cost about $850 more in transportation as Vicki and the children had to fly back to Oaxaca to wait for the pardon to come through. It will probably cost yet another $2,000 more in travel and staying in Ciudad Juarez again. That is over $5,000 of extra expenses. If you would like to help with these expenses, you can send a tax deductible donation to: ICDV, PO Box 240, Jefferson, OR 97352. Designate the gift to Benevolent Fund. Do not put Emanuel or any other name on the check as we cannot give a tax receipt for any gift to a specific person, only a ministry. When we see Benevolent Fund, we will know what it is for.

We have some good news to share! Emanuel finally received the news that his mom has an appointment (her second) with the US Consulate on November 1. Hopefully she will be able to come to Oregon with her two other children – finally after 2½ years of separation.

MORE GOOD NEWS. As I am writing this, Emanuel is in surgery receiving a donated kidney. He went in at 8 pm (Pacific Time) [on October 8].

Update: Emanuel's surgery went well, and his new kidney is working. Juan, his dad, is leaving for Mexico this Saturday [October 14] to take his wife and the rest of his family to the US Consulate on November 1 in Ciudad Juarez where Vicki will hopefully receive her legal papers to come to the US. Jerilyn and I will be caring for Emanuel in their absence.

A couple of weeks ago Jerilyn and I attended a retreat for missionaries serving with InFaith. While we were there, we were presented with a plaque acknowledging 30 years of service as missionaries with InFaith. The plaque commemorates our faithfulness, but we know that our faithfulness would not be possible without the faithfulness of many who are praying for us and supporting us in this ministry. We thank you. Please continue to hold us up in your prayers.

and, by His grace, they are His gifts to us. Praise Him!

And at this time of thanks giving, I am thankful for the Lord Jesus, His blood, my precious wife and family, and yes . . . each of you. Sadly, to many, Thanksgiving is merely a holiday, but to us who personally know God through faith in Christ, it's an attitude of the heart which can be celebrated again and again. And so, may each of you have a blessed Thanksgiving as you reflect on God's gracious goodness to you. Thank you, Jesus!

We're rejoicing in Him,
